

Position Statement exercise:

List all of the reasons why I should do business with you.

Eliminate generic ones that your competition would use.

Now after each one say "so what" and answer this question: "which means to you"